

Military Toronto – World War II – Prisoner of War

A prisoner of war camp was located in Toronto (Mimico) from 19 July 1940 to 1 May 1944. It had a capacity of 550 prisoners. POW camps were first given alphabetical designations - the Mimico location was Camp "M". At some point in 1941 numerical designations were applied to POW camps and Camp "M" became Camp "22".

